Transforming knowledge into action for healthy nation

7 June 2023, KGMU, Lucknow
The First ISMN
Food Safety & Health Conclave

Unsafe food poses a threat to human health and Countries economies, disproportionately, affecting at-risk groups, including women and children, populations affected by war, and migration. According to WHO and FAO data, there are an estimated 600 million cases of food-borne illnesses each year.

Food safety is a misunderstood fact in India which actually starts at initial level starting from sowing the seeds ,agriculture , processing , packaging ,marketing ultimately reaching to consumers through market. These steps are crucial for maintaining the actual nutritional components of food. The healthy Food supply chain system is demand of today for better tomorrow. Not only at individual level but for the nation economy, health of its citizen are important . Ongoing changes in climate, food production, Excessive use of pesticides in agriculture practices, food adulteration ,additives has directly increased the food born diseases in past 30 years . India's Health System and our Doctors are serious about the increasing health hazards of food borne diseases . There is an urgent need for action to improve food safety at this important moment.

ISMN as per its objective of "Healthy and safe nutrition for all" is helping Doctors ,Nutritionist , Food Producers and Companies along with Nutraceutical Medical Food nutrition through various research programmes, Health Clinics and Health events in the past years , On this World Food safety day Presents " FOOD SAFETY AND HEALTH CONCLAVE" on 7th June 2023 It will also address the food development chain, food supply chain, and its association with nutrition supply chain in the body and its associated challenges of food and Nutrition safety. By discussing how food safety strategies and approaches can be aligned across sectors and borders, we can strengthen efforts to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals while also supporting the government of India's efforts & Programmes in this area. This Meeting of Amalgam of Scientists, Doctors ,Nutritionists , Food Administrators and Officers will hopefully produce the new guidelines and directions for better Food safety : Nutrition Safety and Better health for Nation

ISSUES

Food Safety: Nutritional Safety & Foodborne Disease Prevention

As a result of eating food contaminated with Pesticides germs, viruses, parasites, poisons, and chemicals, more than 600 million people get sick and 420 000 pass away every year. Investment in food Safety Education can minimize foodborne illness and save up to ten times of nation economy

Health & Well-Being

Safe Food contains safe nutrition which ultimately provides good health and prevention of many diseases . This will be addressed more brightly by our bright Doctors and Scientists .

Food Safety in Hospitals

Food safety in hospitals refers the food supply chaining hospitals for patients, Nurses, Doctors and many more. Inadequate food safety and outbreaks brought on by it can result in life-threatening illnesses, the needless use of expensive medical services, the spread of infection to other patients and visitors, avoidable deaths, and service interruptions for staff members.
